FISHING WATERS

Pike can be found everywhere in the archipelago and pike of around 10 kg are by no means unusual, but with a bit of luck and skill you can even catch some bigger fish too.

During the spring the best to use are the lures with shallow action for example jerk baits or the jig with a small head, when you are on BIG PIKE mission!!!!

During the summer the fish goes deeper searching for a little bit colder water then the jig is the best weapon that you can have, and the most popular lure choice.

During the late autumn pikes are back in shallower water and it's time for jerk baits, and late in on the autumn you can find the pike hunting in really shallow water.

The best PIKE seasons is, March – November.

And you can always ask the camp crew about colors, what deep, and which pike fishing area is the best right now.

The perch is also a popular catch and is found all over the archipelago. Fish around the 300-400 g are not difficult to catch, and they are good fighters on light tackle. Fish around 1 kg is not an unusual catch.

Perch is generally caught with jigs, and sometimes you can even catch them on big jerk baits when you are fishing pike.

The best PERCH seasons is MAY – OCTOBER.

Sea trout is common in the outer archipelago, and in the springtime they are often found in south facing bays where the water is warmed up by the sun or the onshore winds. Sea trout is caught most frequently with long and narrow spoons special made for this kind of fishing. The best SEA TROUT seasons is, MARCH – mid MAY.
